

Defining Leadership by Emely Ortiz

WE ARE THE FIRST GENERATION
TO FEEL THE IMPACT OF CLIMATE CHANGE AND THE LAST
GENERATION THAT CAN DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT.

– BARACK OBAMA

There are different leadership styles on climate

- Proactive policy-making: Proactive policy-making leadership on climate change involves implementing regulations and initiatives that prioritize sustainability and reduce greenhouse gas emissions.
- International collaboration: International collaboration leadership on climate change involves working together with other countries to address global environmental challenges, sharing knowledge, resources, and solutions.
- Promoting sustainable practices: Promoting sustainable practices leadership involves advocating, encouraging individuals, businesses, and communities to adopt environmentally and it also include raising awareness, providing incentives, and implementing green initiatives.

Climate Change Leadership Trying to do

Climate change leadership is trying to address the impacts of climate change by taking proactive measures, promoting sustainable practice, and fostering international collaboration to mitigate greenhouse gas emissions and protect the environment.

Climate Change Activist Greta Thunberg

Greta Thunberg is a prominent climate change activist who has gained international recognition for her efforts in raising awareness about the urgency of the climate crisis, she started her activism by protesting alone outside the Swedish Parliament, which eventually sparked a global movement known as Fridays for Future. Greta Thunberg has been a vocal advocate for strong climate action and has inspired millions of people around the world take action. Greta Thunberg reached millions of people around the world with powerful speeches and activism, inspiring individuals of all ages to join the fight against climate change. Her influence has brought attention to the urgent need for action and has helped mobilize a global movement for a sustainable future.

2 Climate change
leadership activists
David Attenborough
Leonardo DiCaprio

